

Join us for toe-tapping, foot-stomping, thigh-slapping, tummy-tickling, hand-clapping, instrument-playing fun for both caregivers and children alike.

We use music from around the world in a programme of songs and activities to encourage children's active participation.

Kim Pott

Director and Founder

British sign language trained
Working towards an
MA in childhood education

We drive police cars, ride horses to Grandpa Joe's and hide from Monkey Moo – singing songs that encourage movement, balance, co-ordination, language, communication, team work – and most of all fun.

Learning is not just physical. We aim to expand children's enjoyment of the world around them through multi-sensory music and movement. Our songs teach colours, numbers, fine motor skills, positional language as well as working with partners and learning to share.

We work with over 1,000 children each week in a variety of settings – working alongside teachers in schools, nurseries, SureStart Centres and adult learning courses.

Children just love to learn with us!